PODCAST TEACHER TIPS

Podcasts are great to use in the classroom to get students using their listening skills, as well as understanding things in the world around us.

Most of the Graphic Organizers included can be used with ANY podcast.

The very first graphic organizer can be used specifically with the Podcast "But Why."

I have found all of the podcasts free on several different Podcast apps. You can also search online for these Podcasts if that is easier.

Podcasts would also be great to use as a Media Source, and then find a paired text for the students to read.

Have them write an essay or participate in an academic discussion based on the topic.

At the bottom of most graphic organizers, the students can rate the Podcast episode using a specific number of stars.

Wow in the World

From NPR

Hosts Mindy Thomas and Guy Raz guide curious kids and their grown-ups on a journey into the wonders of the world around them. We'll go inside our brains, out into space and deep into the coolest new stories in science and technology. More from Wow in the World »

Six Minutes

REFRESH PODCAST

Eleven-year-old Holiday is pulled from the icy waters of Alaska with no memory of who she is or where she came from. Are her mom and dad really who they say they are? And when she begins to develop incredible abilities, she'll soon discover she's not alone in the world. From the award-winning creators of The Unexplainable Disappearance of Mars Patel and The Ghost of Jessica Majors, comes Six Minutes, a new mystery adventure for the whole family. Starting on March 1st, new six minute episodes, twice a week, all year long...and beyond. Produced by Gen-Z Media in partnership with PRX. For more great Gen-Z shows visit <http://bestrobotever.com...less>

Tumble Science Podcast for Kids

REFRESH PODCAST

Exploring stories of science discovery. Tumble is a science podcast created to be enjoyed by the entire family. Hosted & produced by Lindsay Patterson (science journalist) & Marshall Escamilla (teacher). Visit www.tumblepodcast.com for more information and educational content.

Brains On! Science podcast for kids

REFRESH PODCAST

Brains On!® is a science podcast for curious kids and adults from American Public Media. Co-hosted each week by kid scientists and reporters from public radio, we ask questions ranging from the science behind sneezing to how to translate the purr of cats, and go wherever the answers take us. @Brains_On

But Why: A Podcast for Curious Kids

REFRESH PODCAST

But Why is a show led by kids. They ask the questions and we find the answers. It's a big interesting world out there. On But Why, we tackle topics large and small, about nature, words, even the end of the world. Know a kid with a question? Record it with a smartphone. Be sure to include your kid's first name, age, and town and send the recording to questions@butwhykids.org!
